These exercises follow the most successful closing of the handsome new Arvoria High School for its first year. Professor Oregon F. Morgan, together with Mrs. Morgan, his wife, have succeded in building up a school which has not a superior in Central Virginia. The attendance has been agreat this year that it is certain additional teachers will have to be emgaged for the next session. Within two or three wears more it is predicted that all of the eight rooms of the school will be filled.

The teachers' examinations will be held at Buckinsham Courthouse on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. It is understood that a considerable number of applications will be on hand for this examination, about equally divided between white and colored.
